

Investment Forum Program for Wednesday, January 3 at 10:00

Mark Your Calendar

The forum will meet on January 10 and January 17 at 10:00, before the OLLI Winter Semester begins.

Announcement

Please visit the new Investment Forum website at www.olligmu.org/~finforum.

2006 in Review: A handout will be provided on the performance of a broad selection of sector index funds over the past three years.

Perspective: The economy is sending mixed signals that are confusing to both professional market-watchers and individual investors. A few prominent conflicting indicators will be briefly discussed. The year ahead may continue to provide as many surprises as the past year.

Follow-Up: Central Fund of Canada (CEF), Macquarie Infrastructure Company Trust (MIC), REIT sector, and utility sector

Sectors: Commodities and large-capitalization growth stocks

Stock Talk: Home Depot (HD), Walgreen (WAG), and Wal-Mart (WMT)

Member Presentation: A handout reprinted from Forbes on the topic of how your broker may be lending shares held in your account to hedge funds for a handsome return—and not sharing any of those revenues with you. The handout will be available to members who find it of interest.

